

Hiring and Contracting with Certified Operators

To help you successfully maintain your system, refer to the Small Public Water System Resource: Hiring or Contracting a Certified Water Operator document, which provides useful information, including:

- An outline of operator roles and responsibilities
- Interview and hiring tools and templates
- Topics that can be included in a written agreement with your operator

Keep in Mind!

A public water system owner must have an operator in direct charge of operations, who is certified at or above the class and grade of the public water system, at all times.
