

Failed emissions test? AZ pays up to $900 for repairs

Participate in 4 easy steps:

1

APPLY

Now - Inside the testing station

Later - Online at azdeq.gov/CarHelp

Once approved, visit an approved repair shop within 60 days.

2

VISIT AN APPROVED REPAIR SHOP

Take your vehicle and emissions test results to an approved repair shop for a diagnosis and estimate, or ask your regular repair shop to apply to join the program. Visit azdeq.gov/CarHelp for approved repair shops locations and details.

After your $100 co-pay, AZ pays up to $900 toward repairs and guarantees your vehicle will pass emissions testing.

You may be responsible for paying any additional repair costs.

3

PASS EMISSIONS

Return your vehicle to any testing station and pass your emissions test. Some shops may even do this for you – be sure to ask!

4

RENEW YOUR REGISTRATION WITH ADOT

servicearizona.com

Learn more at azdeq.gov/CarHelp

Publication Number: C-21-01

Failed emissions test? AZ pays up to $900 for repairs

You may be eligible if:

- ✓ You own the vehicle
- ✓ Your vehicle is titled in Arizona and has been registered within the past 12 months (and the registration is not more than 60 days overdue)
- ✓ Your vehicle is required to take an emissions test and it fails the emissions test
- ✓ Your vehicle is not a motor home, salvaged, or part of a fleet
- ✓ The emissions control system has not been tampered with
- ✓ You haven't already used the program to fix a different vehicle

Apply today!

Questions? Call 877-692-9227

Or, apply online: vvrp.myazcar.com

Use your mobile device's camera (or QR reader app) to apply online.

